12 August 2013

Dear Parents

CHANGE OF PLANS FOR EID CELEBRATIONS

We have had to postpone the Fun Food Day for EID. It will not be happening on Tuesday 13th as advertised. All children should dress in full school uniform and bring their lunch. The new day for the Fun food Day will be the following Tuesday 20th.

The EID celebration Fun Food Day and the Book Parade will be on the same day. Please see the note regarding the EID Food Day and make your order as indicated.

We would like to invite all parents to attend at lunchtime to indulge in middle-eastern delights or to have a picnic with your children with food you bring. This is a celebration of multiculturalism in our community combined with our love of reading. Children are asked to dress as their favourite book character and so there will not be a mufti-day as planned.

At 1:50pm there will be a Book Parade where children will be asked to parade in the character of their choice, to the delight of the students, teachers and assembled parents.

We look forward to a day of fun and celebration.

I look forward to seeing you there.

Martin Naylor
Principal